WAYNE-WESTLAND COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

American History III Pacing Guide

Course description: The course will cover the period from 1900 through the Great Depression and the New Deal. Major themes of the course will include industrialization, urbanization, and movements for racial and gender equality. Additional themes include the emergence of the United States as a world power, and the social and economic changes in the years between the two world wars. There will be a continuing examination of the role of geography as a determining factor in national and world events.
